

Item type
Bibliography	Malala, E. (2024) Lessons from the gendered impacts of climate change on agriculture in Enga Province, Papua New Guinea
Abstract / Content summary	Globally, there is evidence of a gender gap in agriculture, meaning that women face more constraints than men in accessing agricultural resources.
File	 A square box with a diagonal cross, indicating a missing image or a file that cannot be displayed.
File info	309.06 KB, PDF
External web link	https://pngnri.org/index.php/our-research/home
Library Locations
Associated conference
identifier	