

technologyid	12
Technology package	PLANT DERIVED PESTICIDE TECHNOLOGY PACKAGE
Summary	The yield and quality of Brassicas and other green leafy vegetables are often greatly reduced by insect pests. Research carried out at LAES since 1993 in partnership with the German Development Service (GDS) has resulted in the development and release of plant derived pesticides (PDP). Plant derived pesticides are compounds that are obtained from plants that can be used to control pests on crops.
Usage
Scaling the technology
Year released
Related project
Applicable regions
References	